Receipt of signed contract by November 23, 2011 locks in 2012 pricing outlined in this contract.
No payment due until spring of 2012. Labor prepayment invoiced at time of Spring Start-Up

Explanation of Labor Events:

Spring Start-Up: The technician will need access to the controller and the sprinkler system water shut off. At the time of start-up, the technician will spend up to an hour analyzing the system: making sure the system is functioning properly, including all visible zones and parts. If the technician notes that extra time or an additional call will be needed, the customer will be charged for the additional time or call at a discounted rate, unless they are on the pay-as-you-go plan then charges will be at regular rates. Pre-payment is for labor only, if parts are needed they will be billed separately.

*Mid-Season Check: The technician will need access to the controller. At the time of the check-up, the technician will perform a complete run through of the system, readjusting the timer or any heads if needed or noted by customer. If the technician notes that extra time or an additional call will be needed, the customer will be charged for the additional time or call at a discounted rate, unless they are on the pay-as-you-go plan then charges will be at regular rates. Pre-payment is for labor only, if parts are needed they will be billed separately.

Fall Winterization: The technician will need access to the controller and the sprinkler system water shut off. At the time of the call the technician will blow out every zone to properly winterize the sprinkler system, no service work will be performed at this time.

All parts are invoiced in addition to labor. Prepaid labor packages invoiced at time of Spring Start 2012. Fertilization & weed control services invoiced with each application. Prepaid labor is not refundable. For more details of our labor events and service packages visit us online:
